

Coming from the Portland Maine area, heading up Route 302, it should take approximately 50-60 minutes/miles depending on traffic and speed.

The first land mark you will reach is the Shawnee Peak Ski Resort (approx. 45mins from Portland). This means that you are approximately 10-15 minutes away.

Next, you will be looking for a bridge that crosses over the Saco River.

About 1 mile or so after that, on your right, there will be a road called Menotomy.

We are approximately 3.5 miles down Menotomy Rd. on the right hand side. You will eventually see a small cemetery on your right, followed by a large field with a large house in the background. In the day light, you should be able to see the cabin at this point.

A few hundred more yards, the road on your right is called Kay Dr., also now known as Fire Lane 31 C

This is an unpaved road; follow it straight until you reach the cabin. Do not bear left or right when it tees off. Straight only.

For those of you with an up to date GPS system, enter 19 Kay Dr. or Menotomy Rd. in Fryeburg, ME
